Please specify what information you believe to be inaccurate and the reason why you believe the information may be inaccurate. You have a right to place a fraud security alert statement on your credit report that alerts anyone who reviews your credit information that your identity may have been used without your consent and requests that the reviewer verify your identity before issuing credit.

You also have a right to place a "security freeze" on your credit report, which will prohibit a consumer reporting agency from releasing any information in your credit report without your express authorization, except to those with whom you have an existing account or a collection agency acting on behalf of the existing account, for purposes of reviewing (account maintenance, monitoring, credit line increases and account upgrades and enhancements) or collecting the account. Your information may be used for the purposes of prescreening as provided for by the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act, even if a security freeze is on the report. A security freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent; however, using a security freeze may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent requests or applications regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, insurance, government services or payments, rental housing, employment, investment, license, cellular phone, utilities, digital signature, Internet credit card transaction, or other services, including an extension of credit at point of sale.
